GOOD CLEAN FUN

Since our last newsletter, several local churches collected over $1,000 in quarters, met together, formed personality-diverse groups, and visited several local laundromats to minister to the poor in a variety of ways. Our group used $339 in 3 hours and ministered to folks in many relational ways. This is the second time we did this; the first was on a Monday night, and this time was on a Saturday morning. Until these outreaches, many of us did not realize how high the cost of using these places has risen. People there were extremely grateful, and also wanted to know why we were doing this with our sunny Saturday morning. Everyone needs to know that they matter, especially the poor and the marginalized. Giving is authenticated when we give to those who can never pay us back. Jesus Christ modeled this for us by loving us, His enemies at the time, and made us into His friends!

OUR SHOES: PERSONAL STUFF

We are very thankful for this new home and the Amish community we live in. It is a blessing to be surrounded by fields: to wake up in the morning and see cows and horses in our "backyard", horse drawn buggies, teams working in the fields, and also to walk on lower traffic roads together. We are also very thankful we do not have to work on the farm we currently live on, as we did on another for about 3 years. In this photo, Loren and I offered to help move a newborn bull calf and his mom from the pasture (where he was born) across the street to the barn. Sometimes we drive the Amish family (who live in the main part of the house we rent part of) places too far to travel with their horse and buggy. Please pray that God leads us in our involvement with this Amish community. We have been invited to a couple of already.

their gatherings already. Kathy was able to join them at their home church service one Sunday while Loren was busy ministering at Church in the Park in Coatesville. Recently she helped shell peas. Loren offered help when their lawn mower quit. The Amish people we have met are warm, friendly, and often curious about our "English" way of life, as we are about theirs. One strong commonality is the love, centrality and personal relationship with Jesus Christ, which is great.

We are very thankful for three new grandsons this year so far; nine grandchildren and counting! We do get to see them sometimes, and use video calls when we can to see our family... including our son-in-law and daughter in the mission field in Romania. See page 2 for more about seeing them.

↓ SUMMARY OF OUR MISSIONARY WORK ↓

This brochure summarizes what we do here currently. We do much more, including food ministry, building maintenance, synergize with strategic local ministries, author ministry materials, church member involvement, and a part time job to help finances. Life here is very busy but we would be remiss to not say how great it is to be ministering exactly where God clearly called us to! By God's design, there is no blessing like living in the center of His will.

Before becoming missionaries ourselves, we remember reading missionary newsletters but did not really know what it was really like. We all decide to listen for God... or not; to ask Him big questions... or not. We automatically tell ourselves, "I could never do that" but the truth of it is: "Yes, you could... because:

1) God provides everything: you just walk it; and 2) Life gets simpler: freedom from what used to seem so important is so much better."

People of all ages can become missionaries. The Bible guarantees zero unemployment on the mission field and the best retirement plan.

OUR PRAYER REQUESTS:

There are what seem to be good ideas, and then there are God ideas. We are asking God about going on a missions trip to another YWAM location in Romania where our son-in-law and daughter are stationed. Please pray for God's will as we would need: 1) His say so; and 2) finances. As of now, our monthly support plus Loren's tent-making break even with our expenses, and last we checked airfare still costs money. God knows and has His resources ready when it is His time for them.

We have been offered help in producing a video to share our ministry with others, so they can hear if God wants them to partner with God's fruitful work here. We do not want it to be just what we think is best. Please pray for God's blessing as we need Him to direct the communication of His work.

Please ask God how to pray for us, and then do it. We have some men and women who frequent God's throne with intercession for us, which ministers more than they can know this side of Heaven. Please pray for God to minister life to and through the couples attending our Marriage Discipleship Group which meets the 1st and 3rd Monday each month. It is going well, yet we covet your prayers for God to guide us and anoint us as we prepare and lead this group. Good things are happening in it.

THANKS! With love, ♥♥ Loren & Kathy Falzone 71 White School Rd, Honey Brook, PA 19344
